To My Friends in the N. R. Crozier Technical High School:

May I again have the privilege of joining your principal, your teachers, and your many other friends in wishing you a happy Wolf Pack Day. No other time of the year is like this day. Your associates will sign your book; you will sign their books; all in all, it is a kindly, good time.

For the seniors this is a particularly auspicious day. You will never have another one like it. So as you go about your halls and classrooms exchanging good will and happy experiences, please take with you my very best wishes, both for today and for the years ahead.

Sincerely yours,

W. T. White

To the Seniors:

This is the time of the year when principals charge their graduating classes with their responsibility to their Alma Mater.

I believe this is especially pertinent in your case. You have undergone a type of attention different from that given pupils in other schools. The word "Technical," above our school portals, indicates this.

We have "accentuated the positive and eliminated the negative," and you must justify us in this.

The N. R. Crozier Technical High School of the future will need your sympathetic attention and interest in order to develop the program mentioned elsewhere in this fine book; but most of all, the fact that we can point to you as successful business men and artisans, as well as successful citizens, will give us our greatest encouragement.

Congratulations to you on a fine start and best wishes for a fine finish.

Sincerely yours,

Walter J. E. Schiebel

BASKETBALL COACH "ROSY" ADKISSON

The staff of the 1955 Wolf Pack feels that special commendation should go to Coach James A. "Rosy" Adkisson for the tremendous part he played this season in molding the greatest high school basketball team ever to represent the city of Dallas.

Winning championships is no new feat for Coach Adkisson, but this season's triumph is the culmination of several years of unrelenting work. The boys on the team are quick to acknowledge that without the guidance and direction of Coach Adkisson, they could not have won.

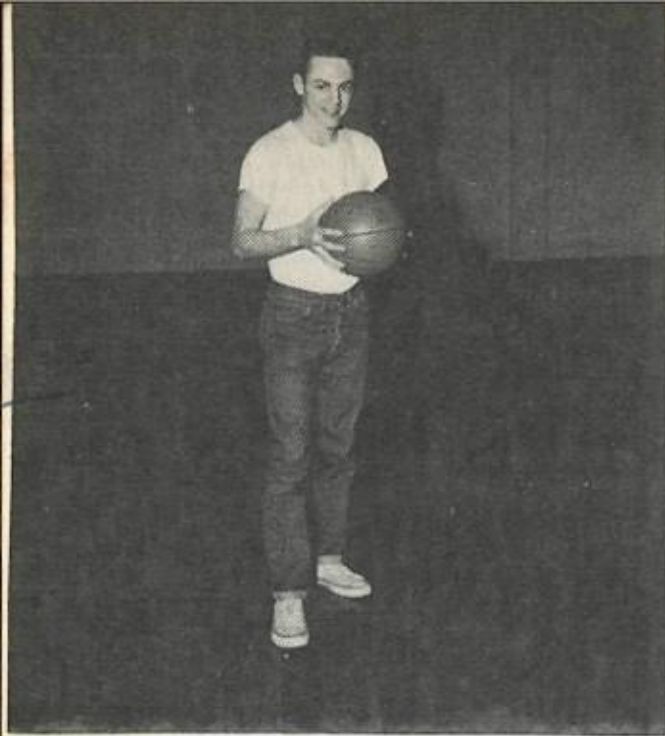

Albert Brown, Coach Adkisson, and
A. C. Black receive Times Herald Trophy

Coach Adkisson holding
City and State Trophies

Coach Adkisson's knowledge of the fine points of the game, his utter devotion to perfection, and his demand that his players achieve that perfection along with his ability to meet and defeat the rapidly changing situations in a basketball game are all reasons why he is rapidly becoming known and feared by opposing coaches as the "Red Fox."

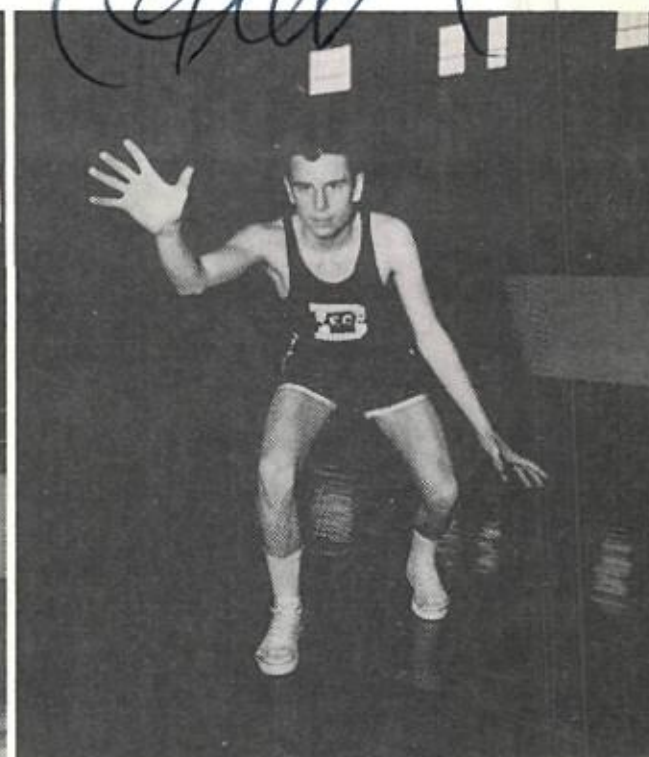

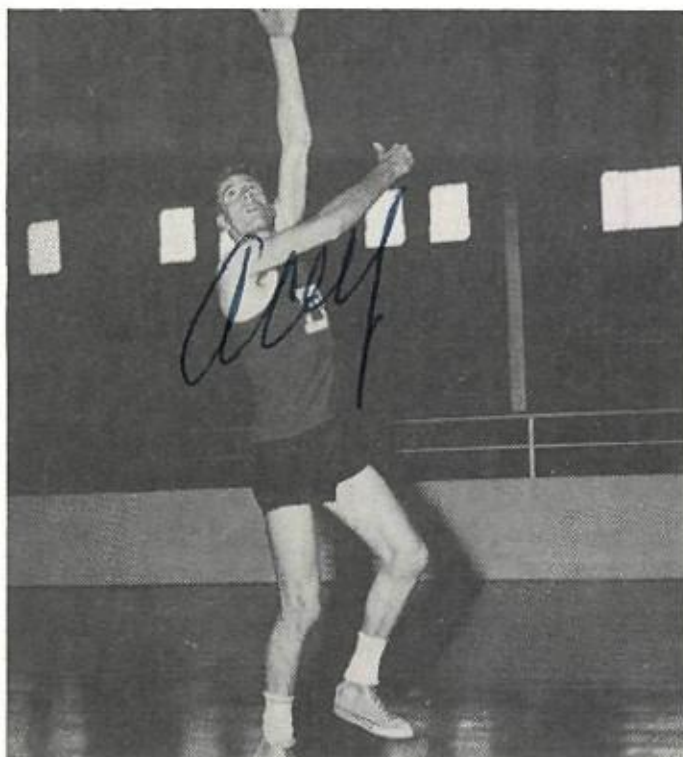

"Having the coach on our bench," say his boys, "is like having six men on the field. We know that if we can play as well as our opponents, he will win for us by outwitting their coach."
